

WANDA M. HOGGARD, DNP, FNP-BC, MAJ, USAF

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR, DANIEL K. INOUE, GRADUATE SCHOOL OF NURSING

Dr. Wanda Hoggard is an Assistant Professor and faculty for the Family Nurse Practitioner Program.

Dr. Hoggard came on to active duty in the Air Force in 2006 after many years of experience as an ICU nurse, ER nurse and a Family Nurse Practitioner in the civilian sector. She received her BSN from Norfolk State University, a Master of Science in Health Care Administration from University of Central Michigan and her FNP from Hampton University, successfully completing her DNP in 2012 from Chamberlain University.

Dr. Hoggard is an active member of Sigma Theta Tau International, Virginia Council of Nurse Practitioners, American Academy of Nurse Practitioners and Delta Sigma Theta Sorority Incorporated. Dr. Hoggard hailed to USUHS after two years as Flight Commander of the Family Health Clinics at Joint Base Andrews Malcolm Grow Medical Clinics & Surgery Center where she also maintained clinical practice as part of her role as the Commander.

Dr. Hoggard honors and awards include the Meritorious Service Medals (2), Air Force Commendation Medals (1) and an Army Achievement Medals (1). She has received the Air Combat Command Advance Practice Nurse of the Year 2012, Provider of the Quarter (2) and FGO of the Quarter (2) awards for stellar performance.